Welcome back!

Dear Parents and Carers,

We hope that you have had a lovely summer with your children and that they are excited about the new term ahead. The teachers are currently planning lots of exciting activities for your children. More details of this will be with you by the end of September. You will soon receive a letter from your class teacher explaining what will be taught this half term, and other bits of important information. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

We, like you want all children to thrive at Tugby. We want them to enjoy learning and have a passion for knowledge, to ask questions, be creative and above all be a well-mannered citizens who are being prepared for whatever life throws at them. We are looking forward to seeing all the learning, achievements and experiences the children take part in this year.

The Tugby Staff Team

'I have come that they may have life and have it to the full.' John 10:10

This week, in collective worship, we have revisited our school values:

Love: This is God's most important gift. We need to show love to our neighbours the way that Jesus intended.

Respect: Treat others how you'd like to be treated yourself. Respect ourselves, each other, the school and the world we live in.

Truth: Never lie, always be honest even if it's sometimes tough.

Hope: Never give up, if we trust in God, good things will come.

Trust: We are honest, so we can be trusted to do good things in our school and community.
